DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the “robots” must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement-drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either “Replacement Sheet” or “New Sheet” pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the examiner does not accept the changes, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

2. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: There are no headings per US practice.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter, which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-2, 4-7, 15-17, 18-22, rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1 how can the clamping device receive the connecting element, which is a rigid conductor, being a screw? The examiner will interpret this claim to mean that the clamping device receives the flat block of components.

Claims 15-17 recite a robot?? Nothing is said about any robot in the specification or shown in the drawings. The examiner can't examine these claims.

Claim 18 can not be examined because of the problems with claim 10.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1, 6-7, 19 (as best understood) rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Skirpan.

Skirpan discloses a connection system fig. 10 for connecting a contact of a flat block of components to an apparatus, the connection system comprising: a conductive connecting element 277 electrically coupled to the contact fig. 11 of the flat block 110 of components; and a clamping device 301 electrically coupled 300 to the apparatus fig. 10, wherein the clamping device receives the connecting element (flat block of components, see 112-2 rejection above), wherein the connecting element is a rigid conductor (fig. 11 at 277), the rigid conductor being a screw fastened conductively to the contact fig. 10, and wherein the screw penetrates a bore (unnumbered fig. 10) in the flat block of components and is locked by a nut 278 on a second side of the flat block of components, which is opposite a first side of the flat block of components.

Claim 6 (as best understood) Skirpan discloses that the clamping device is a screw terminal fig. 10.

Claim 7 (as best understood) Skirpan discloses that the connection system is suited to conduct voltages of over 24 volts, currents of over 0.5 ampere, or the combination thereof fig. 8.

Claim 19 (as best understood) Skirpan discloses that the screw has a head (unnumbered fig. 11 under 277), which is electrically coupled with the contact on the first side of the flat block of components 110.

7. Claims 8, 26 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Skirpan.

Skirpan discloses a flat block of components 110 comprising: a contact 303 that is coupled to an apparatus 275, which is electrically coupled to a clamping device 301, and a conductive connecting element 277 electrically coupled to the contact fig. 10, wherein the conductive connecting element is a rigid conductor fig. 11, the rigid conductor being a screw fastened electrically to the contact (by bus 110 in fig.

11), and wherein the screw penetrates a bore fig. 11 in the flat block of components and is locked by a nut 276, 278 on a second side of the flat block of components, which is opposite a first side of the flat block of components.

Claim 26 Skirpan discloses that the screw has a head (unnumbered fig. 11 under 277), which is electrically coupled with the contact on the first side of the flat block of components 110.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary.

Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claims 21-22, 28-29 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Skirpan as applied to claims 1 and 8 respectively above.

Skirpan does not teach welding or soldering for the screw head.

At the time the invention was made it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to improve Skirpan by welding or soldering the screw head into place. The claim would have been obvious because these techniques for improving a the fixing of the screw was part of the ordinary capabilities of a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, in view of the teaching of the technique for improvement in other situations.

Allowable Subject Matter

11. Claims 23-25, 27 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

12. Claims 2, 4-5, 20 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

13. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Landis et al & Hechler teach flat components with screw attachment.
